The Educated Trout.

During the visit of President Arthur to Louisville in August he was presented a handsome fishing reel made expressly for him by Mr. B. F. Meek, formerly of this city, and while in the Yellow Stone Park it was used by the President in fishing for trout, which prompted a writer in the Chicago News to get off the following:

Chicago News to get off the following:
The morning sun in splendor shows
on the mellow park of the Yellowstone.
The President at the break of day

A braw So shown chief came out
With his willow pole to fish for trout.
With his willow pole to fish for trout.
It was half past 8 when he cane this line,
And he kept on fishing till half past 9;
And patiently fished until half-past 2—
The meanwhile swearing a powerful sight
For fishing all day with nary a bite.
